Jimmy Murphy, Daring
Racer, Is Killed; Benny
Hill Will Quit The Game

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 16 (INS).—The tragic death of Jimmy Murphy, of Vernon, Calif., Premier Yankee motor racer, on the New York State fair track here yesterday afternoon, robbed the motor world of two, not one, knights of the track, for Benny Hill, racing partner and chum of the dead man is through with the game, it became known today.

Hill, his eyes filled with tears, announced his decision to retire as he assisted in carrying the casket holding Murphy's body to the New York Central train on which it is speeding westward to Los Angeles today.

"I'll race no more," declared Hill, who, for six years has himself been an outstanding figure on the motor speedways.

What caused the accident to Murphy's car probably never will be known. The best supposition is that a steering knuckle broke and Murphy was unable to control the wheel.

Murphy was the third big driver to be killed since September 1. Joe Boyer was killed at Allentown on Labor Day. On Sept. 2, Dario Resta, winner at Indianapolis in 1915-1916 and 1917, was killed in England.

Punkstutawney, Pa., Sept. 16 (INS).—Mrs. Clark Bauman, 41, of Juniata, Pa., today when a horse ridden by 14-year-old Richard Fulmer crashed into the rear of the automobile in which Mrs. Bauman was riding.

The boy was thrown from the horse but escaped injury. Mrs. Bauman was riding in the rear of the car driven by a relative. They were on their way to a Sunday school meeting at Indiana.

According to the boy, he was riding with his head down and did not notice the automobile. The horse fell at the impact of the falling with full weight on Mrs. Bauman's head. She died almost instantly from a fractured skull.

Youthful Slayers Base
Hope of Commutation On The Leopold-Loeb Case

Chicago, Sept. 15 (INS).—Attorney Thos. E. Swanson, counsel for Bert and Grant, who, with Walter Krueger, is under sentence to be hanged Oct. 17, for the murder of Paul and Ralph Souders, planned to day to make a determined effort to save his client from the gallows, basing his plea on the verdict handed down by Judge John R. Caverly in the Nathan I. Popoff, Jr., and Richard Loe case.

"Since the verdict in that famous case," Swanson said, "so many inquiries have been made as to whether or not this country has one law for the rich and another for the poor, that I have determined to leave no stone unturned in seeking clemency for Grant."

The first move in the fight for clemency was expected to be a letter addressed to Gov. Small's secretary. This letter was to go out tomorrow.

Grant, who never has confessed the crime, says his hopes rest with the Governor. The State Supreme Court has affirmed the verdict of the Criminal court in his case. Krueger's appeal still is pending and should the higher tribunal uphold the verdict he, too, is expected to appeal for clemency.

Grant was 20 years old at the time Paul and Souders were killed and Krueger was 19.

9-YEAR-OLD ARRIVES
FROM "NOWHERE"

Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 16 (INS).—Police today were attempting to solve the mystery surrounding a 9-year-old girl, who arrived in Cincinnati last night on a train from Detroit. She said she had been placed on the train at Detroit by a woman she did not know.

Captain Schaadt was starting for the Pacific Coast several weeks ago to claim as his bride, Mrs. Florence Clous, a childhood sweetheart of 50 years ago, when he fell and shattered his leg. His trip had to be abandoned so Mrs. Clous came east from her home in Seattle, Wash., and they were married in the hospital. The Captain never recovered from his injuries.

Benefit Easterners.

Harrisburg, Sept. 15 (INS).—Farmers in the eastern agricultural section of the United States will have better times during the next decade, according to Frank P. Willits, secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture.

Economic developments, Secretary Willits said, during the present century, especially the increase in transportation costs and in land values, have placed eastern farmers in a much better position to successfully meet competition by mid-western agriculture than has been possible for many years.

He pointed out that in 1880 mid-western land values were 50 per cent of the eastern land values. By 1923, however, the land in the corn belt was valued at 225 per cent of our eastern farm lands.

"Among other things, this complete reversal of economic conditions during recent years coupled with nearness to

Pinchot Leaves Hospital
Bed To Be With Dying
Nurse Of Childhood Days

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 16 (INS).—The serious illness of his childhood which yesterday caused Gifford Pinchot, the Governor of Pennsylvania, to leave his sick bed in the Presbyterian hospital in New York, and hurry back to Milford, Pa., home where the woman is dying.

The nurse, Mary McCadden, now over eighty years old—doctors say but a short time to live.

Since Governor Pinchot was just "Gifford," a little boy playing around his Glens Towers home in Milford, the nurse watched over him. Through his "leaves" and into manhood, the kindly nurse cared for him.

Although his political life took him away from Milford most of the time, Miss McCadden still kept an eye on "Gifford." Only a few months ago the Governor suffered from throat trouble that led to his recent operation, and Miss McCadden was always at his bedside.

And now not even the warnings of his physicians could keep the Governor in the hospital until he was fully recovered for "Miss Mary" his nurse is dying.

ULSTER REFUSES TO NAME

Chance was 47 years of age and had been ill since last spring when he was struck in Chicago where he went to lead the White Sox in a managerial capacity.

Chance won baseball's acclaim when he led the Chicago Cubs to four National League championships and two world pennants. He also had managed the Boston Americans, New York Americans and Los Angeles Coast League Teams.

CHAMPION COW IS HELP TO SCIENCE;
BODY IS STUDIED

Beltsville, Md., Sept. 12.—Even in death, Sophie 19th, famous Jersey champion, has given herself over to science.

After nearly twenty years of service in milk and butter production, during which time she held many championships, Sophie was slaughtered recently on the government farm here, in the presence of many scientists interested in the study and improvement of domestic animals. She was a member of the famous Jersey herd at Hood Farm, Lowell, Mass.

But killed, because of old age. Sophie is still useful to science. Her body has been the object of study by scientists of the department of agriculture.

Their special search is confined to high-yielding dairy cows, to see if there is some relationship between the size of their organs and their productivity. Also a new basis for judging dairy cattle may be developed.

During her lifetime Sophie produced nearly 100 tons of milk and almost five tons of butter. At the age of 7 years she produced 999 pounds of butter fat, which means about 1,200 pounds of butter in one year.

From January 1914, to November 1918, she was world champion Jersey and as late as 1920, when she was very old for a cow, she was eighth highest milk producer of the breed.

ONE WEEK FROM TODAY THE FAIR OPENS;
MONSTER STEEL AND CONCRETE STAND IS RAPIDLY NEARING STATE OF COMPLETIONKing Brothers Rodeo and Hippodrome Will Hold Forth In Front of Stand Twice Daily.

EVERYTHING IS SET

The Clearfield County Fair opens at the Clearfield Driving Park, Central Pennsylvania's finest fair grounds, on Tuesday, September 23rd and will continue four days and four nights. The management promises the greatest fair in the history of this worthy concern. No fair in this section of the state will offer a better and more varied program, and every fair patron can rest assured he will get his money's worth.

The big new grandstand, the like of which is not found outside the larger cities, will be completed and turned over by the builders to the Grandstand Association on Wednesday next. This is a great building, and a credit to the Park. It supplies the last important need of this wonderful recreation ground and is well worth going to the fair just to look this stand over.

Another new feature and an innovation at county affairs, which is attracting a great deal of favorable and interested comment from all over this section, is the proposed turning of night into day at this fair and thus making possible the giving of a night racing and track feature program the same as in daytime. This is made possible by the installation of batteries of floodlights, each light of which has a capacity of 8000 candle power. With these lights, the entire park from the entrance gate to the rear fences will be made as light as day and will thus double the fair's capacity for entertainment.

A big feature of this entertainment will be the King Bros. Rodeo and Kentucky Thoroughbred Hippodrome, proving exceedingly popular with the capacity crowds that gather everywhere they go. Spectacular horsemanship provided many a thrill, together with hair raising stunts, chariot races, ostrich races, wrestling, Roman standing races, bucking bronchos, riding of wild steers, lariat roping and sharpshooting. In this Texas outfit are 30 head of stock, 30 men and women riders, an elk, a bear, two ostriches, and several stags.

The agricultural or farm products exhibits will be thoroughly in keeping with the high standard of previous years, since the present management took hold, while the poultry exhibit will be a whole show in itself. This exhibit has been growing in size each year but this year's entries are so far in excess of any other year that much additional space and many new pens have been added to take care of it.

Third Death Occurs In

Dotter Dies Last Night

Carlisle, Pa., Sept. 16 (INS).—The third victim of Sunday night's shooting affray died last night in a hospital here. She is Addie Dotter, 34, over whom the double murder and suicide occurred, police say.

Authorities say they have definitely established that Michael Lerpremediated a wholesale killing of the Dotter family because Addie Dotter would not resume her duties as his housekeeper.

Least shot and killed Mrs. Lillian Dotter, 55, the mother, fatally wounded the girl, and then committed suicide. He shot at the father but missed him.

The victims of the triple tragedy will be buried Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Oviatt and Mrs. W. J. Sackett returned Monday from Erie where they drove with W. J. Sackett, who is serving as a U. S. Grand Juror this week.

PENNSY-GRAMS

Huntingdon.—Arthur Isenberg was nursing a broken leg and Richard Geissinger had cuts and bruises on his face and body today when the buck deer stood in one of the streets here yesterday and did not move when the two men in an automobile came along. The deer were struck by the car, which was ditched and almost destroyed. The bucks escaped.

Pittsburgh.—"To make her husband sorry" after a quarrel was the reason she swallowed a bottle of disinfectant, Mrs. Betty Clugge, 21, told police this morning before being lodged in jail after being treated at a hospital. Her husband, George, 27, was also arrested. Both are charged with disorderly conduct.

Butler.—That department stores here and in Pittsburgh have been robbed of small articles while they were crowded, during bargain days by school girls aged from 10 to 13 years was told in juvenile court here yesterday by the girls' leader. The girl testified before Judge John J. Henninger, that she and her companions robbed Butler stores and stole money from relatives for carfare to Pittsburgh where they stole small articles from a department store. The children were charged with delinquency by a probation officer.

New Brighton.—Mrs. Mary Emma Beake Hinkle, 102, one of the oldest residents of Western Pennsylvania, died at her home here today. She was a daughter of the late John Hinkle, 40 great grandchildren, and 11 great-great-grandchildren.

Legion Will Put On A Worthwhile Exhibit Of Relics Of All Wars

The local American Legion post is going to have a wonderful exhibition of war relics at the Clearfield County Fair. They are going to have a collection from all wars in which this country has participated and to this end they are asking the aid of all the people of the county.

The members of the Legion who have the exhibit in charge are asking the people of this county to loan them, for the four fair days, anything in the way of a war relic that you may have. The Legion boys are going to place their own considerable collection of relics from the World War on display. Everyone is assured that the relics will be given the best of care and that a strict supervision of the display will be maintained at all times.

You are also asked to give your name and address and any other information about your relic to D. Way Powell of the Clearfield Hardware Company, who will have this exhibit in charge. A call addressed to him will be given prompt attention and any details not given in this story will be gladly supplied.

APPENDICITIS CAUSES DEATH

George Kitko, aged 14 years, of Madera, who had been a patient at the Rowles hospital the past week suffering with appendicitis, passed away last evening, about 6:30 o'clock. He is survived by his father and several brothers and sisters.

LAST GAME OF SEASON

The baseball fans of this section will have the opportunity of seeing the last game of the season at the Clearfield Driving Park tomorrow when the Williamsport team, winners of the New York-Pennsylvania League championship, meets the Clearfield champions of our own Clearfield-Centre League.

This game will give the fans opportunity to judge between the fast amateurs and the fast "paid" or professional ball tossers.

A good attendance will help the local management out of the hole, and all the local fans should be present. The game starts at 3 o'clock sharp.

POTATO CROP WILL BE ABOUT NORMAL;
APPLES DECREASE

Harrisburg, Sept. 15 (INS).—The 1924 potato crop in the United States will be approximately the same quantity as last year, but the apple crop will show an eighteen per cent decrease.

This is the estimates of the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture after a survey of scores of states.

The total potato crop will be 412,761,000 bushels of which Pennsylvania will furnish 24,903,000 bushels—a decrease of almost five per cent from 1923.

Late potatoes are not expected to be as plentiful as early stock in the eastern states recently. Maine, New York and Michigan are the chief sources of late potatoes for Pennsylvania markets in addition to local production.

In the states west of the Great Lakes, there have been decided increases in the potato crop, some going as high as fifteen per cent over last year.

28,101,000 barrels will be the apple crop this year, it is estimated. Pennsylvania crop shows a reduction of 36 per cent, only 811,000 barrels being expected as compared with 1,266,000 barrels last year.

Recognition of the reduced crop of late apples is evident in the prevailing prices for winter fruit, which are considerably higher than a year ago.

The commercial crop in the eastern states will apparently be about five per cent less than last year.

In New England states, the crop will be considerably larger than last year, the increase amounting to about forty per cent.

Death Reveals Identity
Of Recluse; Lost Wife
And Name 28 Years Ago

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 16 (INS).—Death revealed the secret of Frank Erney, 76, split chosen exile from every family tie who for 27 years has been known as "the man of mystery" in Etina, near here.

During the 27 years, Erney cut himself completely off from all friends and relatives.

When he was taken seriously ill last week, Etina acquaintances arranged to broadcast the news by radio hoping that Erney's relatives might learn of his whereabouts. Word was received by a brother at Sandusky, O., about the time Erney died. The brother and a son, Frank Erney, Jr., of Cleveland, came here to find the exile dead. They told how Erney left his home 27 years ago to forget his dead wife and baby daughter for whom he had constantly grieved.

Since that time his relatives had no word of him until his death.

But seven of the twelve members of Council could get by the different political meetings and other outside attractions or find time enough to attend last night's meeting of Borough Council and assist in legislating for the taxpayers.

The reports of the different borough officials, the usual preliminary to a session of council showed both a normal and a healthy state of affairs throughout the town generally.

Alley Never Recognized
Borough Solicitor Urey made a lengthy report on the status of the alley in dispute between Sam Toney and P. J. Cox. He concluded by saying the Borough had never recognized or taken over such alley and the dispute was a matter for the property owners themselves to settle.

Assess Front St. Paving
An Ordinance providing for the assessment against the abutting property owners of one-half the cost of paving front street between Market street was introduced and passed.

West Third Avenue Sewer
Borough Solicitor Urey read a letter received from the State Health Department advising on the issuing of a permit to construct a sanitary sewer on West Third avenue. The application for this permit was made on July 24th but the authorities at Harrisburg haven't had time to issue the permit yet. The sewer is about 350 feet long and as several houses have already been built on W. 3d avenue its need is very urgent.

Orders Police Signal System
Supt. W. H. Wilson of the H. & C. Telephone Company was present and made a proposition to do away with the present fire alarm punching registers in each fire house and install direct line telephones instead. Also do away with the four fire alarm boxes on the street and install in their places, half a dozen or more boxes equipped with telephones for the use of the firemen and police. At each of these telephone boxes a red police light would be installed and when the services of the police were needed these red lights would be switched on as a notice to the police that they were wanted and they could immediately locate the trouble by calling the exchange from the nearest telephone. This proposition would mean the elimination of the renewing of the present overhead fire alarm wires which will cost from $1,000 to $1,200, but would entail an annual expense of $48 for each telephone stalled.

Fire Chief Kreher spoke against the proposition and the matter was referred to the Public Property Committee for investigation and report at next meeting.

Market Street Sewer
Chairman Adams of the Sewer Department reported that the 24-inch sewer now being constructed on Market street had cost $1890 up to this time and said he believed the sewer could be extended to Fourth street for a total outlay of $10,000. He corroborated in this estimate by Borough Engineer Hess.

Mr. Adams also reported W. Cherry street sewer extension in a false way to completion. A claim for $80 damages to his garden by reason of the building of this sewer, received from John Connors, who lives in the Stage property along which it passes, was turned over to the Sewer Department for investigation.

More Walks Needed
Notices to build sidewalks along their property on Bigler Avenue and on Leavy Avenue were ordered served on the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Similar notices were also ordered served on Octavia and Morris Cowdell on West 4th street.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The fires of political bigotry burn briskly in the United States every thirty years and then they die out and nothing remains but the ashes of extinct controversy. So writes Ernest Harvier in the New York Times. The year 1824 is one in the cycle and has taken and is taking the form of the Ku Klux Klan. Thirty years earlier it was the "A. P. A." thirty years before that it was the original K. K. Klan in the states of the south and thirty years before that it was the "Know-Nothing" movement, the spark of which was struck on the hard flint of New England.

All past experience in the United States shows that secret organizations based upon bigotry and prejudice have never endured and that their forces have always disintegrated whenever subjected to the serious and practical test of opposition by those who believe in tolerance, the cardinal political virtue of the people of the United States. But at intervals (of thirty years) such organizations appear, prosper for a time, enroll a large membership, threaten the established institutions of the country and then disappear, not to be heard from again until there is a new generation of voters, though the present span of human life, by the extension of medical knowledge, better hygiene and a larger intelligence, has been increased from thirty years, the old figure to about forty years, the present span.

Miss Josephine Elwell, after a several days with Mrs. E. Mons, left today for her home in 25 So. Second St. Both Phones.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NOTES

The message brought at the morning service was on the theme of "My Task" taken from the well known passage, "The harvest truly is plentiful, but the laborers are few." The evening message was on the character of Nicodemus, the man who talked with God at night.

Sabbath School showed a decided increase in the membership present, in comparison to the same Sabbath of last year. We are growing each week.

Meeting for the week: The mid-week prayer service tomorrow evening at 7:30.

AN OPEN LETTER TO WOMEN

Tells of Mrs. Vogel's Terrible Suffering and How She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Michigan. — "My troubles were severe pains in my back and terrible bearing-down pains in my right side, also headaches and sleepless nights. I first began having troubles when I was 15, and they have increased as I grew older. A little booklet was left at my door, and I read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women and decided to try it. After the first week I could go to sleep every night and I stopped having that nervous feeling and got a better appetite. The doctor had always said that an operation was the only thing that would help me, but I never had any faith in an operation. Since the Vegetable Compound has started helping me I do not suffer the severe pains, feel stronger, and am able to do my own work. I am more than glad to tell my friends that it helps where other medicines have failed."

The Whole Store Says "Autumn Things Are Here"

Simplicity of Line and Richness of Material Distinguish Fall Coats

There's a snap in the air, Jack Frost is beginning to assert himself—and fall Coats are very much in order. A straightline model of chestnut brown velvet with beaver collar, cuwarm in the most modish way. Other styles and ending is sure to keep your models in flamingo, suede cloth or rop, have the looser shoulder effect with wrappy sleeves, and tight wrists cuffed in fur. These Coats fit snugly about the hips and are lined in bright colors or plaids, frequently of woolen.

Dresses, too, are Marked With Simplicity of Design but Materials Vary

The designs for this Fall show a marked tendency to keep to the straight lines of Summer but the trimmings are quite a little "fussier." Buttons are, very popular for trimmings and here and there is a daring little touch of color against the solid colors of the backgrounds. We have here a host of materials for your selection and the colors run the gamut of the Autumn tones.

A WISE LEADER

Peter J. Brady, an American labor official, also president of the Federation of Labor Bank in New York, tells the British Trades Union Congress:

"American labor is against Kaiserism, Bolshevism or any form of despotism which seeks to overthrow democratic institutions."

This is the truth, and it is well to have such a clear, strong statement of the American attitude from a labor leader. The coupling of Bolshevism with Kaiserism is logical, because the two have proved to be forms of tyranny equally dangerous to democratic institutions.

This is the great argument against Bolshevism—that while pretending to represent the common man, it has trampled down democracy. Genuine democracy not only represents a majority, but is tolerant of all classes, giving every economic and social group the representation and opportunity to which its numbers and importance entitle it.

FREEDOM TO SPREAD DISEASE

Lending her aid to the anti-vaccinationists in a city confounding with a smallpox scare, a representative of the American Medical Liberty League says:

"Doctors and nurses have no place in the public schools. They have no right to order your children to take poisons into their bodies. My advice is that if your children are told to submit to any kind of physical or medical examination in school, they should refuse. Perhaps they will be made martyrs by expulsion, but the cause is worth it. I never heard of a child contracting a disease through contact with fellow-pupils."

She declares that "medical freedom" is the great need of this age, as religious freedom was of a former age.

It may be granted that anti-vaccinationists have some arguments on their side, although those arguments are not convincing to the great majority of physicians and laymen. But surely this sort of talk is more, irresponsible ranting.

If doctors and nurses have no place in the public schools, they have no place anywhere. If this anti-medical extremist has never heard of a child contracting a disease through contact with fellow-pupils, let her ask any teacher, or any intelligent mother of a school child, where the colds come from that are brought home.

Let critics argue, if they will, against injecting any kind of germs into the human system. But at least let them preserve their sanity regarding the general service rendered to present-day schools, and through them to all society, by the medical and nursing professions. To that, more than any other cause, is due the great improvement in community health in recent years and the great reduction in contagious and infectious disease.

WAR AND PEACE

The widespread participation in Defense Day ceremonies showed that the public has not lost its interest in military defense and is ready to play its part in any defensive system requiring the co-operation of civilians.

It has been shown, too, that the government has a far better scheme for mobilizing the nation's defensive forces than it ever had at the outbreak of a war in the past. It includes not only the normal military forces and a big potential force of civilian soldiers but the industrial and financial power of the country and every other big factor needed to put the nation on a war basis.

It is well to have these plans, and keep them up to date, and keep all classes of citizens accustomed to the part they are expected to play. It would do no harm to have such a drill once a year. In fact, that would eliminate the objection that any particular mobilization was "untimely."

But if this is done, there should also be a definite, properly celebrated "Peace Day" every year, to show all the world that America stands in a military posture only because the peace it seeks is not yet assured.

Progress Editorials for Women

EXTRA BAGGAGE

By FLORENCE AVIES
John Burroughs, the greatly beloved American naturalist must have known just how the average woman feels when she packs up to start home after a vacation.

"The older I grow," said Burroughs once, "the more inclined I am to reduce my baggage."

But Burroughs was not thinking of trunks and hat boxes. He spent most of his life in the woods and mountains where he reduced the machinery of living to the lowest terms.

He wasn't so cluttered up with the business of living that he had no time to live.

Changing fashions, meetings, parties, appointments, meant little to him. New and then he had an appointment with a woodchuck or a red-wing, or the tender green on the young birches. But he never had to stop to unpack a dozen trunks or see his broker, or wait till the box came from the tailor, before he kept them. He just walked out of his cabin and arrived.

Unfortunately we can not all dis-pense with that much baggage. And we pence with that much baggage. And we besides, if we all look to the quiet mountain sides, it wouldn't be long before they wouldn't be very quiet. The life of the hermit, the philosopher, the true son of nature is only for the few. But the conclusion of Burroughs to dispense with extra baggage remains a sound one.

All of us carry too much baggage, assume too many cares and possessions, put too much trust in things.

There are women who make the hunt for a spindle-bed a sacred trust, a holy crusade, and who spend most of their lives watching samples, or being fitted.

Outting down extra baggage is just a question of sorting out the essentials. A good many people who have learned to "do Europe" in a life case carry too much baggage all their life. They don't realize that it is just as important to sort out the essentials in every day living as it is in traveling.

Too much baggage most of us lug around, too many extras, too much time and money spent on things that we don't really need, too much clutter. And the very worst of all this extra baggage is the clutter of worry. It's a kind of a habit that some people get. They are never quite happy until a dozen trunks or see his broker, or wait till the box came from the tailor, before he kept them. He just walked out of his cabin and arrived.

Why not throw some of them over board, sort our possessions, material and spiritual, and see just what we have that really counts—people who are essential, causes in which we believe, the possessions which seem necessary and beautiful, and then keep them? We can't all follow in the footsteps of John Burroughs, but we can come just a little closer to it and find that we are a lot happier by so doing.

Municipal Matters

Water Plugs Defective

A. Mr. White representing the insurance underwriters, addressed council on the high rate of insurance in Clearfield, which rate is 18c. He went into details as to how such rating was arrived at and placed a great deal of the blame on defective fire plugs, especially in the business or "high value" district, and the inadequately sized water mains. He also stated that the fire department should be equipped with more hose, and a triple combination gasoline pumper.

Want Sidewalks Kept Open

Complaint was made to council regarding the congregating of crowds of people on the sidewalks at the corner of Third and Market streets and on Market street in front of what used to be the five and ten cent store but now is "coming up." It is almost impossible to get by these places on Saturday evening and Mayor Kittelberger is asked to have his police department clear the way for traffic and also enforce the Ordinance forbidding the parking of cars within 30 feet of a street corner or crossing.

ILL HELP YOU RAISE THE STANDARD OF YOUR HERDS OF COWS

Here is a really exceptional offer made with but one thought in mind—to raise the standard of the cattle herds in this county. You have seen the bigger profits roll in to your neighbor who raised the standard of his herds—here is YOUR opportunity.

HERE IS THE OFFER

I will loan you a pure bred Guernsey or Holstein bull calf. You are to keep him for three years. You will have his services for two years. And at the end of the third year, you are to return the bull to me at my farm.

Of course, I will expect you to give the calf good care and good feed. Again—if you would rather keep the bull at the expiration of the loan period, you may pay me $100 for him.

There are no strings to this offer. You have the services of a high-grade pure-bred bull for two years to raise the standard of your herd without cost except for his feed. You will be enabled to increase the value of your herd a hundredfold in that time. This is an offer that is made purely for the idea of making Clearfield county the home of higher grade herds of cattle.

COWS AND HORSES FOR SALE

I have some pure bred Guernsey and Holstein cows for sale. Also some pure strain Percheron horses.

In the Courts

Driving an automobile while intoxicated is a dangerous occupation in Clearfield county. Dangerous to the ordinary pedestrian who happens to be in its path and also to the fellow who is in the machine. This was made plain by Judge Chase in criminal court yesterday when James J. DuBois, of Philipburg, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated and to aggravated assault and battery upon Mrs. John McGuire, of Philipburg, who was knocked down and seriously hurt when Snowden's machine got away with him and ran into the sidewalk in Chester Hill some time ago. Following the accident Snowden got away but later acknowledged his guilt and paid his victim's hospital and doctor bill. Judge Chase sentenced Snowden to pay a fine of $1.00 and costs and to serve a term of six months in the Western Penitentiary.

Ann's Vash and her husband, John Vash, were sentenced to pay a fine of $200 and costs and to serve a term of six months in the Western Penitentiary for failing to appear to answer a charge of violating the liquor law.

A bench warrant was issued for Mike Ruminsky, of Freyona, when he failed to appear to answer a charge of violating the liquor law.

The jury in the case of Nick Sheller of near Houtzdale, who was prosecuted by C. S. Bailey, of Morrisdale, for assault and battery, returned a verdict of not guilty and directed that each side pay half the costs. Attorney John Scollins, of Houtzdale made his first appearance in criminal court in defense of Sheller and received congratulations on his verdict.

These DuBois fellows sure are on the "sliding board." In fact they have gone so far down the social scale they are even asking the courts to fight their battles for them. They can't even defend themselves against the female of the species. At least Joseph Koselski, a husky DuBois citizen appeared in court yesterday as prosecutor of Twila Milewski, a neighbor, whom he charged with aggravated assault and battery. The evidence disclosed that Koselski was trying to drag his sister-out of a party over at the third rate city one evening and when he used a little more force than she thought the case warranted, the Milewski lady waded into him and proved equality of the sexes plus.

He was then arrested by the city police for being drunk and disorderly and the jury last evening found the Milewski woman did a good job and was not guilty of any crime but did direct that she pay one-fourth the costs and Koselski the other three-fourths. He had no money and went to jail for it. Moral: Never let a woman lick you; but if you do keep out of court and you may then be happy and also remain out of jail.

Ann's All.
In the opinion of most young ladies a hare-lip is the only legitimate excuse for a hair-lip.

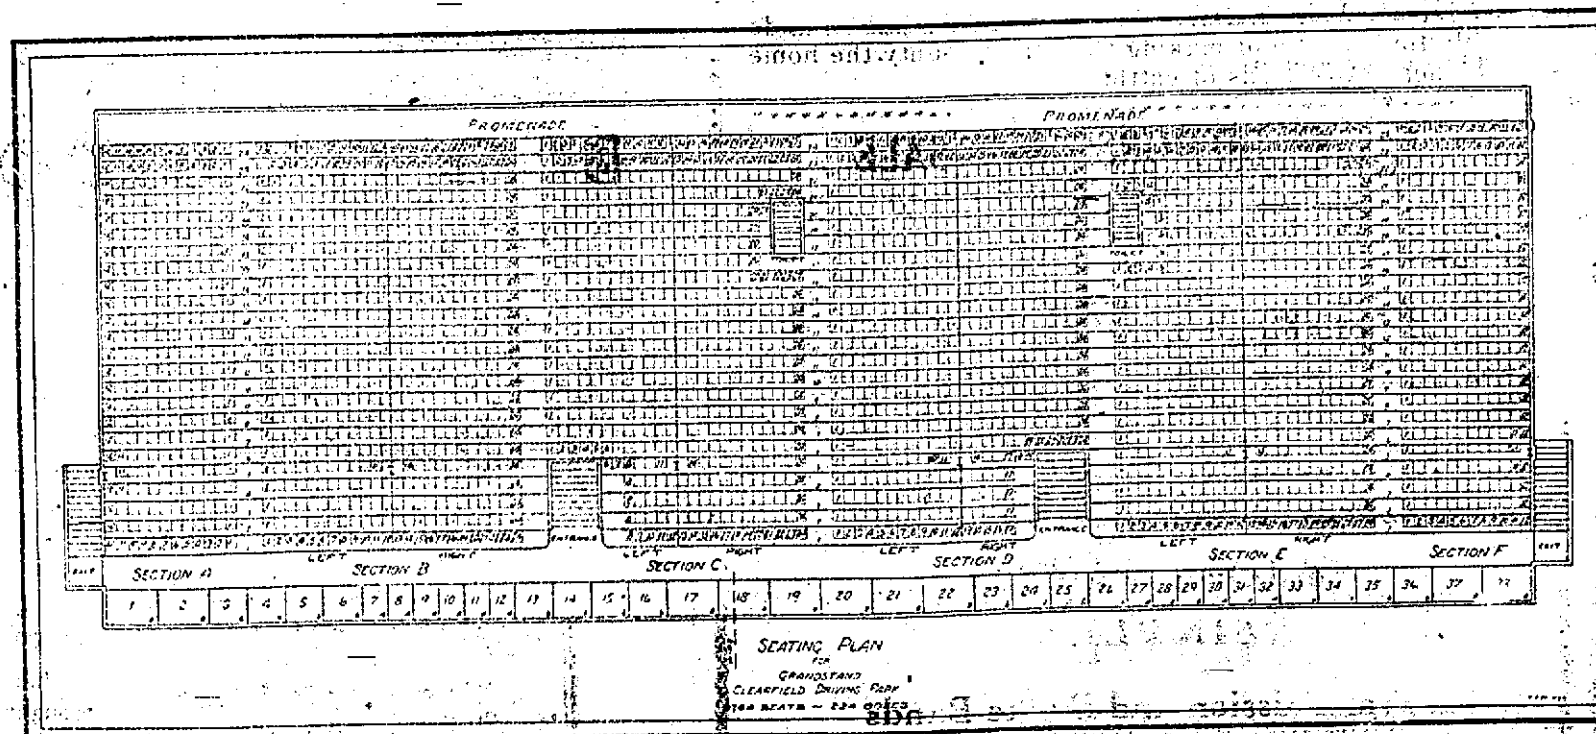

London's Breath of Country.
In the crowded thoroughfares of London, traces of the country linger still in the names of a few city streets. Honeyuckle square, Milton street, is a reminder of the days when the sweet-scented flower grew in the city of London. Few other names redolent of the country still remain in London. Not far from where old Newgate prison stood are Rose street and Ivy lane, whilst perhaps the most noted to Shakespeare was the Manor of the Rose, with its mansion let at a rental of a red rose yearly at Laurence Pountney hill. Plum Tree court and Pear Tree court—Farrington street, are also reminders of the time when the fruit grew in the city.

Clearfield Park Grandstand Company

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

A. W. LEE, President CHAS. T. KURTZ, Vice Pres. and Secretary
A. E. LEITZINGER, Treasurer JOHN C. FORSYTH COL. F. B. KERR

The interest and growth of the Clearfield Park in the last few years has been marvelous. It has become the playground for the County. The Clearfield County Fair has grown with it. In fact, outgrowth, necessitating the purchase of additional ground for both exhibition purposes and for parking of automobiles. A large plot of ground was purchased last fall and has since been put in shape for automobile parking, which now gives sufficient room for some time to come.

THIRTY ACRES OF A REAL PARK

The Clearfield Park organization (which is different from the Grandstand Co.) welcomes Clearfield town and Clearfield and adjoining county citizens to use it. Picnics, conventions, and all activities of a recreational character will find a hearty welcome.

The Park has long needed a new grandstand. It was the one great drawback to a city of real pleasure when large crowds were assembled and the new steel and concrete grandstand supplies this need.

Made to seat 2000 people, 224 of which are box seats, all in comfortable seats and chairs, absolute safety as to fire protection; it is not surpassed by any stand in the United States, the only difference being its capacity. It is 210 feet long, 72 feet wide and made of steel every seat has a view of the entire track, including oval.

The ground floor under the stand has 38,000 square feet of concrete which contains conduits of all kinds. It required 700 cubic yards of concrete for the floor, equivalent to 2,800,000 lbs. Think of that. Thirty-eight (38) tons of reinforcing steel was used in the concrete. Seventy-four (74) tons of structural steel for columns and roof. There are 64,000 board feet in the roof. The stand was built with a safety factor of 4. It is worth your while to come to the fair if for no other reason than to see this fine work of skilled engineering. It will cost approximately $50,000.00.

This stand was erected with no thought of profit. Bonds were and are being sold in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000 paying 6 per cent interest being paid in 20 years. After the interest is paid the balance will be used to create a Retirement Fund for the Bonds. It will then revert to the park. A good safe 6 per cent investment can be had. A good place to invest some of your funds. If interested write any of the Board of Directors or your Bank.

On Friday, Sept. 27, there will be held an afternoon of Automobile Racing. Drivers in the country have signed to be here. Watch the papers for further announcements.

More Than a Printed Page

It takes more than columns of words set in type to build a service like that given day in and day out, to the people of Clearfield by the Progress Classified Advertising Page.

The real story back of the little ads that you see under the different headings lies in the service that these advertisers, as well as the hundreds of readers who watch the wants and offers, are getting every day.

It's a service that works "both ways from the middle." The users of these little ads are looking for results. The many who consult the classified columns daily are on the look-out for opportunities.

And the Progress gives both groups what they want. That's service!

Be sure that you read the Classified ads today and every day.

TEN TOWNSHIPS IN COUNTY QUALIFY FOR MODIFIED ACCREDITED AREA IN RECENT T. B. TESTS MADE ON CATTLE

The work of testing cattle for tuberculosis was completed in ten townships of the County during the last week, with the result that the entire area tested would qualify for a modified accredited area, since less than one-half of one per cent of the total number of cattle tested reacted.

A total of 1345 different herds were tested containing almost 5000 head of cattle, with only nineteen reactors being found in all on nine different farms and four different townships. Six of the ten different townships having no reactors at all.

The following table will show in detail for each township tested, the number of herd owners, number of cattle and reactors, as well as some other interesting information:

According to information received from the Bureau of Animal Industry, at Harrisburg, following the test, the area consisting of the ten townships test will not be tested again for ten townships with a total of two hundred thirty-three pure bred animals. This is less than four per cent of the total number of breeders, and slightly over five per cent of the total number of cattle. It also shows that less than four per cent of the dairy farmers, in the ten townships, have a pure bred sire on their farms. Only eighty-six different farmers, in the ten townships, have over ten head of cattle per farm, while the average owner, in the ten townships, has less than four cattle to the farm.

The impression got out, some how, that reactors were only found in large dairy herds, and they were limited to cattle brought in from other places. However, this was not true as shown by the results of the test. Four out of the nine premises having reactors where native cattle that were raised on the farm and where no cattle were found that had been brought in from other sections. This three years. However the premises upon which reactors were found will be tested again in sixty days, and for each sixty days thereafter until no trace of the disease is found.

Everyone of the tuberculin animals found have been disposed of, and work is now being done in cleaning up these premises by a competent veterinarian.

A total of thirty-two different owners, with seventy-six cattle in all, refused the test when the veterinarians were around. These owners will not have a chance to have the test made free again for three years, and if they desire to have their cattle tested they must employ a local veterinarian at their own expense. The herd owners who have their cattle tested have no right, according to the agreement they signed, to allow any untested cattle to come in contact with their tested cattle.

An owner does not need to get permission to buy or sell cattle from anyone within this area with the exceptions of those who refused to test.

The testing of these cattle showed some interesting information that was not available before. It showed that there was only a total of fifty-three pure bred breeders in the county, which is just as important

POULTRY SHOW AT STATE COLLEGE OCT. 23 TO 25

Premium lists have been received in the Farm Bureau office for the second Pennsylvania Standard Production Poultry Show which will be held at Pennsylvania State College, October 23, 24 and 25.

This Show was put on last year for the first time, and created a great deal of favorable comment. As it took into consideration production, as well as breed characteristics that are so important in fancy shows. Local poultrymen should take advantage of this show, and not only attend, but send a pen or two of birds to the Show.

Premium lists showing prizes and all information about the Show can be obtained from the Farm Bureau Office, or by sending direct to the Secretary of the Show, Mr. Leon Todd, State College, Pennsylvania.

LIVESTOCK SHOW AT FAIR

The Livestock Show, at the Clearfield County Fair, this year promises to be the best in the history of the Fair. For the first time the Fair Association has opened up competition to outside counties and other States, so that greater competition will result, and from present indications quite a number of outside exhibitors will be present this year.

Local livestock and dairy breeders should make their entries early and plan to show just as many animals as possible. Some may think they have no chance of getting a prize with outside competition, but such is not the case. The best animal wins, and everyone has the same opportunity. It is not the money or the ribbon that is worth while, in connection with a Fair, it is the educational value connected therewith.

A comparison of one animal with another is the means of gaining information and deciding whether one animal is better than another. A breeder may have an individual at home that he feels would win first prize if it were there competing. The place for that individual is in the ring, not at home.

The Fair Board have gone to a great deal of expense in making the Clearfield County Fair a great day for livestock to make an effort to show his best stock. It is an advertisement not only for the breeder, but for the County. From one to a half dozen from each pure bred breed will make a Fair which Clearfield County can well be proud of. Let us all get together and do our best.

Slightly over forty per cent of the cattle in the county have been tested to date, and about the same percentage of the total number of farms. One more township, Huston, will be tested this fall. The other nine townships that have qualified will not be tested until after the first of the year, and the remaining ten townships not until the herd owners therein sign up at least ninety per cent, and from present indications at least four of the ten have not expressed any decided intention along that line.

The Farm Bureau will not urge a test in townships where the attitude is not favorable, and it is entirely up to the people in the township whether they test or not. However, it is hoped that the entire ten townships remaining will see their way clear to sign up in the near future, as practically every county in the State is engaged along that line at the present time, and it will only be a matter of a year or so until the herd owner who has not tested will find himself a great deal handicapped in buying and selling animals that are not tested.

ANNOUNCE COURSE FOR COW-TESTERS

The dairy husbandry extension department of the Pennsylvania State College announces that a short course to train men to take charge of cow testing associations in the State will be held at the College, October 20 to 25. An enrollment of about twenty men can be accommodated.

C. R. Gearhart, who is in charge of this work, states that cow testers will be needed to start new testing associations beginning November 1. Others will be placed December 1st and January 1. He will receive applications for enrollment at his State College Office.

Jack W. King, who personally directs the King Brothers company, is a native son of Texas; born and raised in the county of Henrietta, and the famous I. X. L. ranch is located. He is a nephew of the "Widow" King whose land holdings in Texas equal in area the territory embraced by the state of Rhode Island. It was on these broad acres that Mr. King received his early training that later in life was to qualify him for the show business, and the title among show men of "America's premier cowboy."

Not content with directing his company from a distance, he enters most of the races, including the Roman standing half mile dash, which is one of the most difficult races to ride. He is considered to be the greatest of all Australian bull whip manipulators and the most finished wild west show man in America. He trained Jack, Jr., the splendid bay high school horse that so captivated the audience Monday, and still rides bucking horses with an ease and grace that would do full justice to a top rider 20 years his junior.

The two big ostriches that perform on the track were broken to ride and drive under Mr. King's directions. The birds were trained only after weeks of patient and skillful handling. They now constitute one of the big features of the program, and attract a great deal of attention wherever they are shown.

EMPORIUM HENS MAY SET AN EGG MAKING RECORD

A record in egg production is in the making by the flock owned by the Lone Oak Poultry Farm, of Emporium, according to D. M. Gray, poultry extension specialist of the Pennsylvania State College, who has just visited the farm. From the first of November to the first of August, this flock of White Leghorns has produced an average of 162 eggs per bird. If the present ratio of production is maintained, the flock will probably average 185 eggs for the year and will be one of the highest producing flocks in Pennsylvania.

Fifteen hens have laid over 200 eggs and are still going strong. One outstanding bird has produced 234 eggs and has over two months to go before she completes her laying year. Every bird on the farm is trap-nested so that the exact production is recorded. This enables the manager to eliminate the "boarder hens" or the one that is producing small or off-colored eggs.

One Week From Today

are on hand for the races, while more than 75 horses are entered and will compete for the $4,000 in purses offered by the fair management.

In addition to these attractions we have taken the time and space to enumerate there will be many other attractions of various kinds, and, as we said before, there will be something doing all the time at the Fair, with variety sufficient to please everybody.

In speaking of the King Brothers Frontier Days and Kentucky Thoroughbred Racing Hippodrome, the Booneville (N. Y.) Herald of September 4, 1924, says:

The King Brothers company, presenting the big free attraction program at the fair this week are all "primed" to "turn it on wild" for the remainder of the week.

They made their initial bow to a record breaking opening day audience last Monday afternoon, and held a well filled grandstand and the hundreds of spectators, that lined up on the inside of the center field fence until the last number was presented and the concluding announcement made.

When the chariots, each drawn by four high spirited horses, plunged under the wire immediately following the grand entry of the company, the crowd seemed to sense that a real thrill was waiting for them. Dan Wynne, "Shorty" Grugan, and Johnny Davis, the three daredevil chariot drivers did not disappoint them. They emerged from the back stretch in a cloud of dust, with Grugan in the lead. Wynne jockeyed at the last turn and got the inside rail. They raced neck and neck for a few seconds, with Davis making a strong bid for first position—then in a final burst of speed the 12 speeding horses flashed under the wire, with Wynne in the lead, Grugan second and Davis third.

That part of the program that dealt with the frontier days of our far western country was an accurate reflection of the spirit of the early days when thousands of cattle roamed the lowlands and the mountain foothills of the country west of the Missouri river and the vast expanse of grazing lands in the Lone Star State.

Hog Facts

A Worth While Experience. The Grand Champion award had just been placed upon a beautiful, matronly sow at the conclusion of one of the strongest shows held in recent years. I followed the sow and owner from the judging arena to a pen in a distant part of the swine barn where his exhibit was quartered. As he turned the sow into her pen, still holding the purple ribbon which the judge had awarded, I heard him say, "Well old girl, it was worth it." "How does it seem anyhow to own the Grand Champion sow?" I asked. "Well," he replied, "you just don't happen to get such an award. I could tell you quite a long story regarding ing the care and attention that was given this sow. When she farrowed her litter this spring I was with her almost constantly during the first two weeks after the pigs were born. You know I wanted to raise all the pigs, and then I was thinking about how the sow would look in the sow ring this fall. Many a morning during the summer I rolled out at daybreak to take Lucy for her regular morning walk. Some days we repeated the walk in late evening. And besides, of course, she got every other attention that was necessary. I'll tell the world it takes hard, steady, consistent attention to win a championship in a real show. But just tell the boys for me that it is worth it."

Another Record

It is becoming quite a common thing for Pennsylvania Pork Producers to break world's records. A pure bred Duroc litter bred and fed by Ray Briggs of Luzerne County, smashed another high spot on August 30th, when the eight pigs tipped the scales at 2196. Looks like still more records are due, so don't be surprised if you hear a whop per next month.

Hogging Off Corn

A feeding practice which has become common on corn belt hog farms and is becoming more popular and better known each year wherever hogs are raised, is that of "hogging off" a part of the corn crop in the field, instead of harvesting it and feeding from the crib. When this method of handling the corn crop and fattening hogs is first suggested to a farmer who has never tried it, he at once asks if it is not a waste of good feed and if not, what are the benefits and where does it save. The answer to these questions is in the experimental work and feeding demonstration carried on by the Agricultural College and Experiment Stations, where accurate records have been kept with the result that it has been definitely determined that this is the most economical method of fattening hogs where corn is the principal food. These results are backed up by the experience of thousands of swine raisers in all parts of the country who have tried it out to their satisfaction and each year find a part of their hog crop in this way.

Those who have tried it find that its chief advantages are: the saving of much labor in feeding the corn; the corn would have been husked and cribbed, and the saving of labor in cleaning the yards and pens and the spreading of manure. The practice of "hogging off" corn saves much of the manure which by this method is evenly spread on the field when none of its value is lost through leaching or evaporation, as is the case where hogs are fattened in small lots or pens. The health of the herd is also better as they are kept under more sanitary conditions. The animals make more economical use of their feed as they are on full feed and have the opportunity to utilize and balance their ration with other crops sown in the corn such as soybeans or rape.

The pigs that do best in the corn field are the active pigs weighing from 90 to 125 pounds that have been developed on good pasture with a good growing ration. A good rule to remember to determine how many pigs to turn into a field or how much corn to supply a bunch of pigs is that nine average pigs from 90 to 125 pounds will clean up an acre of corn in about as many days as there are bushels of corn per acre and gain about one and one-half pounds per head a day. The pigs should not be turned into a whole field at one time but should be allowed to clean up a few acres at a time. A simple fence is all that is needed to keep the pigs confined. This can easily be constructed by using 28 to 32 in. wire attached to a post and corner posts and held together by tying the standing corn with a few line posts driven into the ground to help keep the fence rigid.

The pigs hogging down corn need and should be supplied with some high protein feed such as tankage, fish meal, oil meal or skim milk. Rape or soybeans in the corn will help supply the needed protein and reduce the amount of other high protein feeds which must be purchased unless skim milk is used. Some animal protein cheapens the cost of grains and should be supplied either by hand feeding or self fed.

After the pigs which are being fattened have cleaned up a field, the old sows, fall pigs, and other stock hogs should be turned in to pick up any corn that may have been left by the market hogs. This will avoid all waste and give the animals a lot of much needed exercise. As soon as the field is thoroughly cleaned up it can be sown to rye for late winter and early spring pasture. Here are the principal points to bear in mind when a part of the corn crop is harvested by hogs:

1. Growths shoots weighing 100 to 125 pounds apiece are preferable.
2. Cut a limited amount of corn and feed to hogs a few days previous to turning into the field.
3. Turn them into field at the time that corn is ready to cut and put into shock.
4. Allow a half or three-fourths acre at a time if you have woven wire handy.
5. Feed about one-fourth lb. of tankage per shot daily.
6. Provide plenty of water.
7. Figure on about 8 to 9 shots to harvest an acre of corn yielding around 45 bushels (shelled basis) per acre.

Fall Pigs

The way the hog market has been acting recently and the knowledge that there is a smaller number of swine in the country than usual, makes one feel that fall pigs are going to be good property next spring and summer. The wise farmer who is fortunate enough to have some sows bred for fall barrow and do good care of fall pig crop and do everything possible to save a large per cent and grow them out rapidly.

As a rule the sows will give birth to stronger litters in the fall and save more of them than in the spring, due to the fact that they have had more exercise and green feed and the weather is more favorable during the summer and fall. These circumstances should be taken advantage of, and the pigs pushed as rapidly as possible so they will be strong and good size when cold weather comes, which is the critical period with fall pigs.

Due to the fact that the weather is warm and sows have an easier time at farrowing in the fall than in the spring, the sows are often neglected at this time, but they should be given clean quarters and some one on hand to help in case assistance is needed. The feed should be cooling and laxative during the last two weeks of pregnancy. After farrowing no feed, or just a light slop, will be needed for the first day. Start gradually then with a thin slop and do not get the sow on full feed for at

Stock Judging Contest Will Be A Big Feature At Local County Fair

A Stock Judging Contest will be held in connection with the Clearfield County Fair on next Wednesday, September 24th, at 10:00 a. m., sharp, near the cattle shed on the Fair ground.

All boys and girls enrolled in any form of Club work in the County, are eligible to take part and Bronze medals will be given as well as Agricultural Papers and books, for prizes. Two classes of livestock will be judged; namely, Dairy cattle and hogs.

Free admission to the grounds, on that day, will be given to all school children and any club member not coming under that class will be admitted free if enrolled previous to that time. Send your name and address to the County Agent's Office, Clearfield, before Monday, September 22.

Silo Will Preserve Whole of Any Crop

Various Plants Combine Well With Alfalfa.

The silo preserves the whole crop, stalks and all, in best form for feeding, whether corn, sorghum or hay, so that hardly any of the food value of the plant is lost. The Colorado experiment station found that when corn was kept in large shocks 31 per cent of dry matter was lost, when kept in small shocks 43 per cent of the dry matter was lost, and when left on the ground 55 per cent of the dry matter was lost. With the silo much of this is saved and the stock will not waste the stalks as they do in dry curing.

The curing of hay is largely dependent on weather conditions, but silage crops can be put into the silo when wet and will cure regardless of weather.

No stalks remain in the way of farm implements and none are left in feed racks and mangers to be thrown out and wasted.

Silage, whether from corn, cane, kudzu or sunflowers, combines well with alfalfa hay, which is a staple crop in this state. Alfalfa contains the protein needed to balance the silage, while the silage supplies succulence. Straw can be fed to better advantage with silage than in any other way. The silage will give better results when fed with a little dry roughage than when fed alone. CHAS. L. BRY, Colorado Agricultural College.

Compliment for Kathleen

Kathleen told some stories to a little niece and nephew. At a family dinner party grandpa referred to these same nursery tales, but not following the exact lines, when Margaret piped up: "No, no, grandpa, that is not the way Kathleen tells the stories and Kathleen is a good knower."

MAKE $5.59 PROFIT PER HEAD ON SHEEP IN LANCASTER CO.

That a good flock of sheep properly managed will return a neat profit to the owner is shown by the accurate cost records kept during the past three years by several Lancaster county farmers. The books for 1923, which have been summarized recently by a farm management extension department of State College show a profit of $5.59 a head. In 1922, the average profit per head was $5.05.

The average total income per head last year was $17.37. Lambs and ewes sold during the year contributed $13.23 to this income, the wool added $3.87 and the products used at home were valued at 27 cents. The average expense connected with maintaining a sheep during the year was shown to be at $14.28. A credit of $2.50 was allowed for the value of the manure which brought the net expense per head down to $11.78.

The largest single item of expense connected with keeping sheep proved to be the home grown feed which averaged $4.64 per head. Labor costs came to $1.25, rent, interest, taxes, and $1.97, decrease in inventory $4.04, and cash expense and feed $1.48.

At least ten days. After this she should be fed rather heavily on either slop hand fed or with a self feeder. A satisfactory ration for fall sows as for spring sows is 40 per cent ground shelled corn, 30 per cent ground oats, 20 per cent middlings, and 10 per cent tankage. Give the pigs a creep and get them to eating as soon as possible. Keep them on pasture as long as there is anything green for them to eat. See that good dry sleeping quarters are provided for the late fall and early winter nights.

FLYING HEN MAY CAUSE LOSS OF FRIENDSHIP

The wing of a hen has caused many a break in friendship between neighbors. "Old biddy," eager to catch the "early worm," flies over the fence and scratches in the wrong garden.

Two remedies are suggested by State College poultry specialists to keep "biddy" where she belongs and maintain peace in the neighborhood. One is to cut the primary flights of one wing so that when the hen attempts to fly, she will find herself unbalanced and will give it up as a bad "job."

Another method of preventing flying is to cut the ligament in the wing. Spread the wing out to its full width and on the outer edge of the second joint, a small white ligament or cartilage will be found under the skin. Cut the skin and place the blade of the knife under the ligament and remove from one-half to an inch of the ligament. The operation is simple and causes no loss of blood because no large arteries are cut.

markets and the adjustment of production to home market demands has placed our Eastern Agriculture on a much more substantial economic basis," Willits said.

Cooperative organization of farmers can do much to improving marketing conditions, the secretary holds. When properly directed, these organizations have beneficial results, many of which are not readily apparent.

In concluding, Willits said that eastern farmers have much better time ahead providing they seek a business man's viewpoint of their situation, give more attention to actual market conditions and then produce as efficiently as possible.

All He Could Say For Them

Two famous actors, voices at the game, were playing golf. They were gradually but surely reducing the turf to an approximation of a plowed field. Finally their co-lies felt that they could stand it no longer. One turned to the other with: "Did you say they were actors, Jim?" "Yes, Jo," admitted the second, anguish and apology struggling in his voice. "Well," said the first, "all I can say is they might make good scene shifters."

FARM FACTS

Most farm machinery is more worn by rust than by use.

An account book helps locate the no-account cows and crops.

Don't forget that the horses feel the heat, too, even if they can't remark about it.

Fairs and expositions are the milestones that mark the progress of a community and a nation.

Legumes prevent bankruptcy because they insure a steadily increasing reserve deposit in the soil.

Right after the hay has been drawn is a good time to pick up those stones that bothered the mow in cutting it.

Ohio farmers whose low fields had been tile-drained were able this year to work them two or three weeks ahead of their neighbors.

Yields of hay from Sudan average from 1 to 2 1/2 tons an acre. When grown for seed it usually is cut with a corn binder or grain binder and threshed with a grain thrasher.

Experiment On Orange Culture Fatal To Well Known Agriculturist

Valencia, Spain, Sept. 16 (INS).—Paul Harrison Herrick, of Riverside, Cal., is dead at the village of Sagunto and two assistants are in a serious condition from cyanide poisoning accidentally contracted during experiments in orange culture.

Herrick was director of the Society of chemical fumigation, and was conducting fumigation experiments when he was poisoned. He leaves a wife and two children.

Methods of Control of Different Insect Pests

The following methods of control for common pests are recommended:

Codling Moth.—Use powdered lead arsenate, 1½ pounds, or powdered calcium arsenate with 4 pounds of hydrated lime to 40 gallons dilute commercial lime sulphur. Apply when 75 per cent of the petals have fallen and complete the work within ten days. Give a cover spray three weeks later with or without lime sulphur.

Orchard Aphid.—First spraying with lime sulphur, 1 to 8, with nicotine sulphate, 1½ pints to the 200 gallons, as buds are beginning to break. For later applications use 2 pints of nicotine sulphate, 8 pounds soap to 200 gallons of water.

Weevils.—Kerosene emulsion may be applied to overwintering colonies when noticed in the spring.

Leaf-Feeding Caterpillars.—For tent caterpillars, tussock moth and canker worms, apply powdered lead arsenate, 4 pounds to the 200 gallons of spray.

Strawberry Weevil.—Apply sulphur-lead arsenate dust (85-15) at the rate of 60 to 80 pounds per acre when the work of the weevils is noticed in the bud and further application is needed.

Current Leaf Worms.—Apply powdered lead arsenate dusts or sprays to the foliage, unless the fruit is nearly mature, when fresh hellebore, 1 pound to 5 pounds hydrated lime, may be used.

Cabbage Root Maggot.—Two or three applications of corrosive sublimate, using 1 ounce to 10 gallons of water. Make first application within four days of the first appearance of eggs on the plants and subsequent treatments at weekly intervals.

Green Cabbage Worms.—Apply a dust of 1 part powdered lead arsenate and 15 parts hydrated lime, or a liquid spray of 1 pound powdered lead arsenate with 2 pounds soap in 40 gallons of water in two or three applications. Make the applications a week or ten days after the white butterflies become numerous in July. In garden plots fresh pyrethrum, 1 part to 4 parts four may be used.

Study Draft of Plows

Extensive studies of the draft of plows, conducted by the Iowa agricultural experiment station, have proved that the type of plow bottom does not materially influence the draft. Stubble plows and breaking plows were operated at rates of speed varying from three-fourths of a mile per hour to six and one-half miles per hour, and it was found that the increase of speed will produce about the same increase in draft with any type of bottom.

Bird Colorings.

A scientist, in discussing color in birds (reds, yellows and greens as due to pigments, and blues and whites as due to air spaces in the feathers), says that a person who admires color without some of the intellectual background gets little more enjoyment out of such things than an idiot playing with his jack-in-the-box of glass. This is a little severe, but we must agree that both are limited to emotional enjoyment only, and that to one whose mind is stimulated, such color associations enrich his experiences manifold.

Defies Age by Using Ordinary Buttermilk to Beautify Complexion

This Pretty Girl Tells Druggists Not to Take Anyone's Money Unless This Delightful New Vanishing Cream Shows a Decided Improvement.

Buttermilk Cream creates beauty almost like magic. The most wonderful thing about it is the fact that whilst it turns the darkest, most sallow complexion to radiant beauty and makes red or rough hands or arms snowy white, yet there is not the slightest sign of its use after application. It actually vanishes from sight and the most heated atmosphere will not produce the least shininess or greasiness of the skin.

No matter whether you are troubled with a poor complexion, wrinkles, puffiness around the eyes, freckles, crows feet or lines around the mouth, ugly finger nails or just a simple roughness of the face, hands or arms caused by wind or sun, you will find that any or all of these troubles will quickly disappear with the use of Howard's Buttermilk Cream.

POPULAR MUSICAL CONCERT AT WEST SIDE TABERNACLE THURSDAY EVENING SEPT. 18

The Rev. Dr. Dorsey N. Miller, of Harrisburg, his wife and daughter, and Miss Mattie Barclay, of Norfolk, Va., will give a musical concert at the West Side Tabernacle Thursday evening. This concert was arranged following a visit Dr. Miller made to Clearfield a couple months ago in behalf of the West Side congregation's new building project, and it is doubly interesting to Clearfield people because of the fact that Dr. Miller was born here and spent his early life as a member of West Side Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller are famed throughout Pennsylvania and surrounding states for their gospel singing and their interpretation of modern ballads and classic selections. Their daughter, Helen L. Miller, is a student at Peabody Conservatory, Baltimore, having won a scholarship for that school by carrying off the Music Week prize for possessing the best voice in the city of Harrisburg. Her voice is of the lyric-dramatic type and is most pleasing, both in solo work and in the trios with Dr. and Mrs. Miller.

Miss Mattie Barclay, the fourth member of the concert party, is a violinist of outstanding ability, she also being a student at Peabody Conservatory.

The program will consist of solos, duets and trios, with violin and piano accompaniments, and violin solos. It will include all types of songs and music and is sure to please all types of musical taste. All those who have heard the Millers in their ensemble numbers, are lavish in their praise, speaking especially of the harmonious blending of the voices. Mrs. Miller possesses a strong, mellow, contralto voice and Dr. Miller a pure lyric tenor. Their voices form a beautiful background for the outstanding clarity of Miss Helen Miller's singing in the ensemble numbers and are most pleasing in duets.

With such a program to offer and with the large circle of local friends waiting to hear them, the Millers and Miss Barclay are sure of a large hearing Thursday evening.

Systematic Effort Wins.

If we take our days and reduce them to the essentials we shall find that there are many real things to do, needful things to do, and we shall go about these tasks quietly and earnestly, not expressing our energies through a hundred trifles, but through true effort, properly directed, doing whatever our hands and hearts and minds find to do, nobly and well.

Mrs. A. B. Lansberry, of Bistown, who suffered an attack of ptomaine poisoning while shopping in Clearfield Saturday evening and for a time was in a serious condition, is now much better.

Work Without Proper Aim.

I respect the man who knows distinctly what he wishes. The greater part of all the mischief in the world arises from the fact that men do not sufficiently understand their own aims. They have undertaken to build a tower, and spend no more labor on the foundation than would be necessary to build a hut.—Goethe.

Eczema

Oh! The joy of a peaceful, restful night. What a wonderful "up and going" feeling follows such a night of undisturbed slumber.

Oh! What tortures—what agony—what despair—goes with the nights where eczema and other skin diseases hold power and drive away rest and peaceful slumber. For under the cover of darkness like crafty beings of the underworld, these eruptions work their most serious havoc.

S.S.S. is the established conqueror of these annoying skin diseases. S.S.S. drives these ever disturbing elements from your system—elements that carry in their wake—lack of energy—undermining health! You may try in vain to get rid of them by using salves, lotions, washes, all to no purpose. You can't do it that way—the seat of the trouble lies deeper—impure blood trying to throw off poisons through the tender skin.

S.S.S. purifies the blood. It aids Nature in creating new red-blood cells by the millions. Blood-cells that send new rich blood coursing through your system. Red blood that drives away eczema—drives away pimples, blackheads, boils and rheumatism, too. An increase in red-blood-cells means added strength, added vitality and renewed vigor. Because the medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable, it may be taken with perfect safety. Start taking S.S.S. today and watch it root that annoying, skin destroying, health undermining army that holds your system in its grasp! Learn again what it means to enjoy peaceful, restful nights of slumber.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

GENERAL MERCHANDISE

SPORTS

New York, Sept. 16 (INS).—After a long chase, the Yankees were on even terms with the Senators today, with each club primed for the remaining thirteen games in the dash down the stretch. The tigers closed the gap to four games by trimming the Senators, making it two out of three for the series.

Pittsburgh, only two and one half games from the lead, prepared to step on the lowly Phillies twice today and climb while the Reds opened hostilities with the giants. Brooklyn also faced easy pickings in the Cardinals.

DUNDEE DONE

New York, Sept. 16 (INS).—Fistic experts tied a requiem over the professional career of Johnny Dundee, former world's featherweight champion and American 130 pound title holder, as a result of the thorough beating he received at the hands of Jack Bernstein, of Yonkers, for fifteen rounds at the Queensborough stadium last night. Bernstein drove the Italian from one side of the ring to the other for the entire distance and only Dundee's great generalship saved him from a knockout.

Dundee has been a headliner for more than a decade, having taken part in upwards of 350 fights.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

At New York.—Jack Bernstein outpointed Johnny Dundee, 15 rounds. Johnny Leonard, Allentown, Pa., outpointed Angel Diaz, South American featherweight champion, 10 rounds.

Frankie Albano, Brooklyn, won decision over Ernie Goozeman, Milwaukee, 6 rounds.

At Waterbury, Conn., Kid Kaplan defeated outpointed Law Paluso, Salt Lake City.

At Mingo Junction, O., Harry Greb, Pittsburgh, scores technical knockout over Billie Hirsch, Canton, in eight rounds.

INDIANS WIN AND LOSE

The Reedsville Indians took their bats to Grampian recently and hammered a 6-1 victory over the "hill billys." Grampian used two pitchers, McDivitt and Peterson, both being batted freely.

Vasbinder, catching for the Indians, put up one of the best games of the season. P. Work, pitching for the Indians, went the entire route. Work also had the longest hit, for three bases. Grampian had five hits to the Indians' eight hits.

Last Saturday the Indians were defeated by Glen Richey 7-6. The defeat was brought about by errors, Reedsville having 12.

Glen Richey will come to Reedsville, and then we hope there will be another story to tell.

TAGGING ALL THE BASES

The Yankees tied the Senators for the lead by blanking the White Sox 2 to 0. The Champions got only four hits off Red Faber, but made them count as Sam Jones wielded the white wash brush.

Rip Collins, former Yankee Twirler, did his former mates a good turn by shutting out the Senators. The Tigers won 2 to 0 and advanced to within four games of the lead.

Pittsburgh crawled up to within two and one half games of the Giants by taking the Braves over the rapids in twelve innings 4 to 3.

The Browns made it even-Stephen for the season by taking a farewell kick at the Red Sox 4 to 3.
